Other (please specify):

- At the time, my company required it for my job role.
- BCSP or ASSE promoted this certification in it's infancy
- Becoming a CPEA was a no brainer as I knew it would increase my value to clients as well as my company.
- company recommended
- Consulting work, outside of normal employment.
- Credential that lends credibility to audit experience
- Further delineate myself within the profession
- good on resume if change jobs
- High credentials - status
- Higher value employee to employer with the certification
- I new it would become accepted by the ASSE some day and it was.
- IIA credibility with Internal Audit personnel and Company.
- Increased authority for performing company audits.
- Internal Audit Dept. prefers Audit Team Lead have it
- It aligned with business plans at the time.
- It was the only auditor certification at the time (late 1990s)
- Old supervisor recommended
- Professional Credibility
- Required to do RC 14001/RCMS audits
- Vice President required it.

A nominal maintenance fee is fair, but $165/year is exhorbitant.

applicants should not

Appreciate that I was able to go to a temporary holding pattern while unemployed

As long as use of funds are toward our common cause, which otherwise would not be attainable

Beyond my CPEA, I have been unable to benefit from my membership.

but could be lower

But there should be a positive for this...like no Auditing Roundtable fee.

I am hit by both annually and the company does not see the why there has to be 2 fees/businesses.

Considering other fees it is too expensive since it is not well known.

Feel it is higher than other similar designations

It should be consistent with the CIH or CSP and no more.

Make it less money to renew.

Need more focus on evidence of practical auditing

Not enough space to explain why

Similar to other certifications.

The CPEA fee is double other, more respected certifications fees.

The fee is quite high compared to other certification bodies

The renewal fee is high and BEAC does not provide many benefits to those that are certified

Too expensive.

Too high.

too much

What do we get for the money? Just initials behind our name?

Wish the annual fee were lower.

Would like to see more resource availability.

20 hours in 2 years or 40 hours in 4 years would be better.
5 -year cycle preferred
Allow more credit for audits lead by an individual and/or for managing a global audit program consider >40 hrs in 2 years
Economy impacts available dollars for training / travel every 3-5 years is best
Every three years might be better
If you are CIH, CSP or PE, Prof Develop is not required
It is fair, though it is difficult to achieve in the economic climate where we are so very limited on what we can attend due to travel and course costs.
Must consider that many professionals hold numerous certifications and must meet different CEU's. Can be very difficult to comply with breath of requirements needs to be flexible and include on the job training and mentoring (e.g., by sr. auditor)
Not enough remindners of the report due date
Performing audits should be counted prefer 5 years like CSP certification reporting should be consistent with CIH and CSP (5 year cycle)
Should be every five years
similar to other certifications, however, I think the allowances are too lax in some areas.
The reporting period is NOT too short; it is about right.
The reporting requirement is too lax.
The reporting requirements are quite onerous compared to other certification bodies
There should be a requirement that the CPDs be in your field. Example if Environmental then is has to be training in E-auditing not another field Training funds are cut during economic downtimes.
We should be able to take credit for auditing safety compliance
Would like to see every 3years

Personnelly too simple with regards to supporting docs.
No requirements that your training be in that specific field that you are looking for the certification in you just have to have the hours and credits in pretty much anything.
One needs to know the material to pass, so I studied and passed so one could say it was easy
Wasn't easy, but it shouldn't be too easy.
Still waiting for Prometric testion option
superior to rabqsa. thank you.
Great People to Work with, very professional.
Test is hard! But that makes it more credible.
If certifications are easy, they lack credibility.
Office staff has always been very prompt and helpful.
online testing is a must!!! Im trying to get certified now and it is HARD to find a sutable place and date for testing.
It is what is is
Not an easy process, but not confusing
I was VERY pleased to see that the testing process is moving to computer based.
Hand written essay portion will especially be better when taked on a computer.
I did not agree on the fact that I was not allowed to use a dictionary during the exam
The process was extensive and the exam was challenging.

Other (please specify)
Advertise in professional magazines.
BEAC Should not be involved in the education process as this should be the ARs role in the auditing profession especially since BEAC is designed to be a certification body in the original agreements between IIA and BEAC.
CPEA qualify for BCSP Core Examination
Ensure the pursuance of worldwide acceptance have legislators legislate the requirement to be a CPEA for certain activities
Information made available thur safety organizations that offer safety training.
The information should be given to attendees. They are already in the safety profession.
linking up with internatonal audit groups and those in other countries
OSHA Combustible Dust Explosion Rule-Making (current)
Presentations at EH&S Conferences
Since I live in europe, communication and information via the internet is my favorit
